This continues until the formation of $^{56}_{26}$Fe on $^{56}_{28}$Ni.

No energy is gained by forming heavier nuclei.

Reason: Nuclear force is short range.

$\rightarrow$ Binding due to nuclear force in A.

Coulomb repulsion in long range.

Hence, element may form in supernova explosions.